

Ray

Examples & Non-Examples

Example	Example	Non-Example

Definition

A ray is a part of a line that starts at one point, called the endpoint, and extends infinitely in one direction.

It has a starting point but no end.